

Timmy, a freshman at UofSC, is getting ready to wake up in a few minutes to go to class. The problem is that he will not have his parents to tell him. Timmy also doesn't know how to get to class or what time he will reach. So timmy will have a hard time trying to get used to college life.

Timmy calls his friend bob to ask him how he is getting used to college. And Bob said that he was using the class tracker app to make college life easier.

Timmy takes bob's suggestion and goes to the app store and gets the class tracker app.

Timmy tries the app and sets up his schedules, timings, and alarms.

Timmy gets ready for class and starts heading out his dorm. He typed all of his schedule; so now the app tells him how long it will take him and the easiest route

Using the Class Tracker app, Timmy arrives to the russell house 10 minutes early. And not only that, timmy got enough sleep because the app wakes him up in time.
